

Martin Jacobs

Islamische Geschichte in jüdischen Chroniken

Hebräische Historiographie des 16. und 17. Jahrhunderts

Differing from early modern Christian historiography, contemporary Jewish authors painted an idealized picture of Muslim rulers, as Martin Jacobs shows in his analysis of 16th- and 17th- century Hebrew chronicles. At the same time, he discusses whether Jewish historical writing of that time continued in the medieval tradition or echoed Renaissance patterns.

Martin Jacobs Geboren 1963; 1994 Promotion, 2002 Habilitation (Freie Universität Berlin); Assistant Professor of Rabbinic Studies, Washington University in St. Louis.

2004. X, 332 pages. TSMJ 18

ISBN 978-3-16-148156-7
cloth €129.00

Order now:

<https://www.mohrsiebeck.com/en/book/islamische-geschichte-in-juedischen-chroniken-9783161481567/>

Phone: +49 (0)7071-923-17

Fax: +49 (0)7071-51104