Einheitsrecht für internationale Forderungsabtretungen

UN-Abtretungsübereinkommen, UNIDROIT-Factoringübereinkommen, PECL, UNIDROIT-Principles

The significance of the assignment of receivables in international trade is increasing constantly in regard to factoring, forfaiting, securitization or assignment for security purposes. The United Nations Convention on Assignment, as well as the UNIDROIT Convention on Factoring provide internationally uniform regulations for cross-border assignment of receivables whose purpose is to make international assignments easier and to support them. Claudia Rudolf analyzes both of these and examines them from the standpoint of comparative law.
