Oberfinanzpräsident Rolf Grabower

Jude, christlicher Preuße, Richter in Theresienstadt

Rolf Grabower, the "father of sales tax," was deported as a "three-quarters Jew" to the Theresienstadt ghetto where he ascended to the position of labor and administrative judge within the Jewish "self-government." In the post-war period he dealt with anti-Semitism, which continued to exist, but also signed so-called denazification certificates, for staunch National Socialists as well.
